

pick of the day

Reviving the Manchester tradition of moody electronic pop, Delphic are on Zane Lowe (7pm, RT).

Mordrin McDonald: 21st-Century Wizard (11pm, R4) tells the sad tale of a man out of time. Capable of wiping out a small town with his little finger yet incapable of getting his bins emptied on time by the local council, and facing such quests as returning DVDs to Blockbuster on time, morose wizard Mordrin finds his powers have little use in the Scottish village of Blairlochil, where he currently lives after being alive for 2,000 years. This enjoyably absurd comedy comes from the pen of comedian David Kay. WH

ALEX SUDEA/REX

